Melbourne Playback Theatre

One performance only 3.00 pm on Wednesday 8 July at 130 Little Collins Street Melbourne

Playback Theatre is a unique form of improvised theatre, presented by a team of professional actors and musicians. A performance is led by a conductor, who facilitates the sharing of audience stories and experiences. The actors and musician then re-enact these stories, using a variety of improvisational forms. In this program, we will invite you to tell your own stories of supporting people through loss and grief.

The immediacy of group and personal experiences is transformed by the power of theatrical performance. Playback may be humorous, poignant or revealing all in the same show. Playback is theatre that is truly interactive, accessible, exciting, engaging and universal.
