

GENERATE 2016

Intergenerational Ministry Practicalities

“Generational”, “Multi-age” and “Intergenerational” are the current buzz words in ministry with children, young people and their families. More significantly, this approach to ministry has shown to be vital for sustainable, long-term faith formation and discipleship for people of any age.

For anyone engaged in ministry with people of any age, Generate 2016 will provide opportunities for exploring what intergenerational ministry looks like in practice, intentionally growing generational connections and engaging with stories, tips and practicalities around the development of multi-age experiences.

Come along with others from your church, team or organization for this unique event that will transform your ministry with people of any age!
